

Chemguide – questions

ACYL CHLORIDES: PREPARATION

1. There are three standard methods for converting a carboxylic acid into an acyl chloride. Choose any two of them. In each case, name and give the formula for the compound that you would react the carboxylic acid with, write the equation, and say how you would separate the acyl chloride from the reaction mixture.